Drama Club presents baseball play

The fans that populate the famed bleacher seats at Chicago's Wrigley Field are the subject of the Rose-Hulman Drama Club's presentation of "Bleacher Bums," a comedy which opens tonight at 8 p.m. in the Moench Hall Auditorium.

The play takes place during a 1977 National League contest between the Cubs and their rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals. The characters in the play are similar to those found on any sunny afternoon at the Chicago northside stadium. Bruce Decker, played by freshman Ken Whitehead, is a successful businessman who now has the luxury of spending his afternoons at Wrigley Field. Richie, played by freshman Rick Radzville, is a young man who idolizes Decker; Zig, played by senior Dan Vujovic, will bet on anything as long as it involves the Cubs; his wife, however, is tired of seeing their money thrown away.

Other characters include Greg, played by junior Mark Leonard, who is a young blind man who announces the game by way of his radio; Marvin, portrayed by senior Jack Gulick, is a professional gambler who'll bet on anything against the Cubs, and Melody, played by ISU junior Ann Geiger, shows up to the games just to get a good tan.

In addition to tonight's opening performance, other shows are scheduled tomorrow and Nov. 7 and 8 at 8 p.m.

ROTC Wabash Battalion's upcoming events

by Greg Cassidy

The Wabash Battalion will be keeping its members busy during the first part of November. The month's activities begin on November 1, 1986, when all ROTC units in the State of Indiana will compete against each other for ROTC Day at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis, Indiana. The competition includes marksmanship (with pistol and rifle), land navigation, swimming, running, volleyball, military skills, and competition marching.

This is the first time the Wabash Battalion has sent a full team to compete. For the Wabash Battalion, the competition will be strong, since other host institutions include Purdue University, Notre Dame, and Indiana University. However, the Wabash Battalion is the second largest ROTC unit in Indiana, and its participants include many such as Brock Ridgeway in 10K run. Brock will be of exceptional value since his victory at the Inter-Collegiate Orienteering Meet last spring. With the union of the five schools of the Wabash Battalion, many worthy competitors are available for success at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

The only members of the Wabash Battalion who will not participate are the members of the Ranger Company. The Ranger Company will be conducting patrolling exercises in Crane Naval Research. This is the actual Field Training Exercise (FTX) for those in the Wabash Battalion.

The Ranger Company will spend the weekend practicing, patrolling techniques, patrol bases, and physical endurance. They will return to Rose-Hulman sometime Sunday.

The evening of November 7, 1986 is the time of the Wabash Battalion's Annual Dining-In. The Dining-In is a social dinner created to honor the young soldiers going off to battle. Over the years, it has evolved into a form of unit comradery to bring those in a battalion closer together. For the Wabash Battalion, it is an introduction of the new ROTC cadets to the Battalion, and a re-unification of those with some experience in ROTC. All Army ROTC cadets are required to attend.

Campus 'selling' has stalled enrollment drops

(CPS) — American colleges have not yet suffered the long-expected Great Enrollment Drop of the '80s mostly because they've learned how to sell themselves better, a new report released by the Educational Testing Service (ETS) said last week.

Some public colleges now spend an average $30 per student on recruiting. Private colleges may spend as much as $500 per student.

"An unprecedented marketing and recruiting effort by the nation's post-secondary institutions during the first half of the decade" has helped avoid the big enrollment drop — thought to be as much as 20 percent by some observers — expected during the '80s, says ETS researcher Hunter Breland.

Public four-year colleges have boosted their recruiting budgets by 63 percent or more since 1980, more than double the inflation rate, he says.

Schools figure they have to recruit students aggressively if they want to survive.

"Everybody fights for (students)," says Leroy Twilley,

Western Illinois University's admissions director. "In Illinois last year, we graduated some 138,331 high school students. Figure that about one-half of those go to college. Next year, we project about 138,900 students. Then the slide begins."

"In 1991, we'll be down to about 119,951 graduates. That's quite a drop," Twilley admits. "College enrollment is closely allied to high school graduates."

Adds Dr. Gerald Bowker, Twilley's counterpart at the University of Tennessee, "we are all competing for the top high school graduates."

Bowker figures the new emphasis on recruiting is here to stay. "Colleges really need to work on developing their image, regardless of whether we are in good times or bad times. It doesn't stop because last year was a good year."

So WIU's Twilley, for one came up with a "Western Advantage" ad campaign.

Last week, Twilley hosted a banquet for about 100 potential students, and is preparing a direct mail campaign.

"We are doing everything," he says, "from buying mailing lists from national testing companies, sending letters, inviting people to college activities, college tours, high school visitation, telemarketing, etc., etc."

Such campaigns, regardless of ETS's findings, don't always work.

The University of the District of Columbia last week announced its enrollment this fall is down by 1,000 students, continuing a seven-year slide.

The slide has cost UDC about a quarter of its student body despite a hefty $257,000 marketing campaign designed to "stop the hemorrhaging of enrollment," says spokesman John Britton.

"I'm afraid we have a serious problem. Attracting students has become much too competitive for us not to maintain an aggressive position," says N. Joyce Payne, chairwoman of the UDC board of trustees.

The campaign, including radio, newspaper and bus ads, produced over 15,000 mail and telephone inquiries, but the number of applications fell.

Race to benefit POW-MIA families

Opinion and Columns

EDITORIAL

This week's editorial deals with reality. Reality forces us at the Thorn to face the fact that we are not going to be able to print as many issues this year as we would like to.

There are two reasons we are not going to be able to put out as many issues as we would like to. The first is a universal problem, money. With so many campus organizations active and with so little money in the SGA coffers, the Thorn, like every other campus group, was forced to accept less money than they needed. In order to stay within our allotted budget, we will have to cut a few issues here and there.

The second constraint is time. We put the Thorn together the Monday night before the Friday it arrives on campus. Thus, in order to get a Thorn out the first Friday back from a break, we have to lay it out the first day back from break. In order to lay out a paper, you need stories. Stories are hard to get a hold of when the reporters are scattered across the country enjoying a break from classes.

Thus, because of these two problems, the Thorn will not be coming out on December 5 or January 9. In an attempt to make the missing issues up to our readers, the December 12 and January 16 issues will be eight pages long. This will give us enough room to cover the stories that were not reported due to the cancellation of the two issues.

(Bloom County fans - we will be running all Bloom County strips. None will be skipped.)

Album Reviews: Heavier than Air - Part 2

by Ron Dippold

Loudness
Lightning Strikes

This previously underrated Japanese metal band is making a second try for American success with Lightning Strikes. The playing is faultless, and the lead singer, Minoru Nihara, has an excellent voice. The first side has many memorable tracks, including "Let it Go" and "Face to Face", but the songs on the second side are enough alike that they tend to blend together. Be warned that while Nihara is a good singer, he has a distinct Japanese accent that may take getting used to.

Samson
Head Tactics

Even though the band Samson is defunct, their old albums and concert tracks live on in a "greatest hits" type record. Head Tactics. The vocals by Bruce Dickinson, now of Iron Maiden, are of good quality, although he has improved since then. The playing is informal sounding, not extremely clean, and the songs are interesting combinations of metal, rhythm and blues, and rock, such as in "Too Close to Rock", and "Vice Versa". After you listen to Samson a time or two it grows on you and becomes hard to put away, but it is definitely an acquired taste.

Piledriver
The Metal Inquisition

Things have finally gone too far. Sensationalist metal bands with many gimmicks and no real talent, such as Venom have appeared on the scene now and then, and Piledriver is one of the worst. The title of the album and the titles of some of the songs, such as "Lust", "Human Sacrifice", and "Twisted" give a hint of worse things to come, and come they do. Piledriver can't play well, and their lead singer (also called Piledriver) can't sing, so they resort to crude lyrics, each worse than the last. "I feel like a human sacrifice, I feel like I'm gonna puke" is the chorus of "Human Sacrifice", and "Alien Raid" describes in great detail the invasion of Earth by beings who "lust after human flesh." The lyrics could be tolerated (barely!) if the music were good, but as it is, there is nothing redeeming about this album at all!

Cinderella
Night Songs

This new heavy metal band is reminiscent of Motley Crue and Bon Jovi (in fact, Jon Bon Jovi is featured on two of the tracks) and plays good heavy metal, period, on such songs as "Shake Me", "Push, Push", and "In From the Outside". If you liked Motley Crue's Theatre of Pain, Bon Jovi's Slippery When Wet, or Ratt's Invasion of Your Privacy, you should love Night Songs. Otherwise, don't even bother.

White Wolf
Endangered Species

This group's last album, Standing Alone, didn't get the reception that it should have, perhaps because of the ridiculous cover that didn't fit their music at all. Endangered Species is done much more tastefully, and the music is definitely of higher quality. While some of the old intensity is gone, and this isn't really heavy metal at all, it is still good rock music, somewhat between the offerings of Dokken and Queensryche and certainly even a non-metal fan will enjoy it.

Anthrax
Spreading the Disease

This is the record for all heavy metal fans out there. Anthrax is unabashedly a "thrash metal" band, and they are fantastic at what they do. Even as they blaze with the energy and speed of Metallica or Exciter, Anthrax incorporates some excellent tunes and lyrics into their music, from high-speed action in "Gung-Ho" to the metal ballad style (it's possible!) of "The Bounty Hunter". Those who don't like metal will have no use for this album at all, and even some metal listeners will be put off by this band's speed and energy, but for the rest, this album is a must!

Bon Jovi
Slipper When Wet

Backed by the powerhouse song "You Give Love a Bad Name", this album is a guaranteed success. Some of the vocals are a bit strained, as in "Livin' on a Prayer", but other than that, Bon Jovi is in top form. This is a great album with a great variety of songs (and a hilarious introduction to "Love is a Social Disease"). If you liked their last album, you should like this one, too.

Engineers 2-0 in CAC

by Jeff Myers

A fourth quarter 97-yard pass from quarterback Jason Duff to senior wide receiver Tim Rauch lifted the Rose-Hulman Engineers to an upset victory over the 16th ranked Centre College Colonels last Saturday, 14-8. The victory gives Rose-Hulman a 6-2 overall and 2-0 CAC record, and opens the way to the conference championship. Centre drops to 6-1 overall and 3-1 in the CAC. The Engineers must beat Sewanee and Rhodes College to capture the CAC title.

With Centre leading 8-6 in the fourth quarter, the Engineers were facing a third-down situation on their own three-yard line. That was when Duff unloaded a 97-yard touchdown strike to Rauch who outran a defensive back for the game-winning score.

"We played with a lot of heart and were able to win the game," said Engineer Coach Scott Duncan. "Centre has a good team. Just like we thought, they are the best we've played so far."

Centre held an 8-0 half-time lead on a 26-yard touchdown run by fullback Greg Lawson. Tailback Todd Scobee, the Colonel's Most Valuable Offensive Back last season, caught a three-yard pass from Todd Carter for the two-point conversion in the first quarter.

Rose-Hulman scored their first touchdown in the third quarter when flanker Dan Lemons caught a 28-yard TD pass from Duff. The Engineers failed on the two-point conversion.

Sophomore quarterback Jason Duff set several school records in addition to his two touchdown passes. Duff holds records in pass attempts (221) and completions (125) during a season. He is 150 yards away from the school's yardage record.

Rose's fifth-ranked defense allowed a season high 175 yards rushing for Centre. The Engineers gained 73 yards on the ground, led by fullback John Collett with 48 yards. Collett suffered a broken arm during the game and will be lost for the rest of the season. In the air, Centre caught passes good for 148 yards, while Rose had 166 yards, led by Rauch with two catches for 98 yards.

The Engineers have two games remaining, both CAC contests. Tomorrow, the University of the South in Sewanee, Tennessee plays host to the Engineers. Next weekend, Rhodes College comes to Phill Brown Field for the final game of the season. Back the Engineers!!

Rose travels to Sewanee

THE GAME: Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology (Fightin' Engineers) vs. University of the South (Tigers).

TIME, DATE AND PLACE: 2:30 p.m. (Terre Haute time), Nov. 1, McGee Field (3,500), Sewanee, Tenn.

ON THE AIR: Rose-Hulman radio station WMHD-FM, 90.5, will broadcast Saturday's game beginning at 1:25 p.m.

RECORDS: ROSE-HULMAN is 6-2 overall and 2-0 in the College Athletic Conference. SEWANEE is 2-5 overall and 1-2 in the CAC.

COACHES: ROSE-HULMAN'S Scott Duncan is 6-2 lifetime and at Rose-Hulman in his first season. SEWANEE's Horace Moore is 68-56-4 lifetime and 38-40-1 at Sewanee in his ninth season.

SCENE SETTER: Rose-Hulman is coming off a 14-8 victory over nationally-ranked Centre College last Saturday in Danville, Ky. The Engineers must defeat Sewanee on Saturday and Rhodes College the next week (Nov. 8) to win the CAC title outright. Sewanee won its second game of the season last Saturday by defeating Washington & Lee, 14-7.

ENGINEER NOTES: Sophomore quarterback Jason Duff (6-2, 170, New Castle/Chrysler H.S.) established Rose-Hulman records for passing attempts (229) and completions (125) in a season when he threw for 166 yards (12-of-20) and two touchdowns vs. Centre last Saturday. He also combined with senior wide receiver Tim Rauch (6-0, 170, Crawfordsville/Crawfordsville H.S.) for a 97-yard touchdown pass vs. Centre to set a school record for the longest pass completion in Rose-Hulman history. Duff has 1,305 yards passing this season and needs 141 yards to break the school record for passing yardage in a season, set by Mike Box (1,445 yards in 1971) . . . Senior punter/placekicker Grant Sharp (5-9, 170, Cincinnati, Ohio/Western Hills H.S.) needs 362 yards punting to surpass Bob Burwell's school record for career yardage (8,097). Sharp has 1,645 yards punting this season and 7,736 yards punting for his career. He owns the school career mark for punting attempts with 204 . . .

SERIES RECORD: Saturday's game will mark the 11th meeting on the gridiron between Rose-Hulman and Sewanee. The Engineers hold a 6-4 advantage in the series which dates back to 1976. Rose-Hulman last defeated Sewanee in 1984 (29-27) and lost last season to the Tigers, 14-7.

LAST SEASON'S GAME: Rose-Hulman entered last season's game against Sewanee with a 2-0 CAC record and the home field advantage, but the Tigers stymied the Engineers, 14-7. Fullback William Sears (6-2, 200, New Whiteland/New Whiteland H.S.) rushed for 131 yards and one touchdown on 20 attempts. Sewanee passed for 177 yards compared to Rose-Hulman's 40 yards passing. With 10:40 remaining in the game and the score tied at 7-7, Sewanee faked a field goal attempt and quarterback Phil Savage tossed a 21-yd. touchdown pass to Alan Hardee for the game-winner.

ROSE-HULMAN LAST WEEK: The Engineers used a "boot" pass in the final two minutes to defeat previously undefeated and 16th-ranked NCAA Division III Centre College, 14-8. With just under two minutes remaining in the contest, quarterback Jason Duff and the Engineers were faced with a third-and-17 situation on their own three yard line. Duff called for a "boot" pass to Tim Rauch and the two connected on a 97-yard touchdown with 1:14 left to give Rose-Hulman its second victory in two years over Centre. Two plays before the touchdown pass to Rauch, Duff had been shaken up on a sack and junior Dennis Kelley (6-0, 175, St. Louis, Mich./St. Louis H.S.) took over for one play. Duff re-entered the game the following play and threw the touchdown strike to Rauch.

COACH DUNCAN ON THE ENGINEERS: "We're playing with a lot of confidence now. I think our players realize they are a good football team and Saturday's win at Centre proves that."

A LOOK AT SEWANEE: The Tigers boast one of the nation's best NCAA Division III passing offenses that includes nationally-ranked receiver senior Mark Kent. Sewanee is second among Division III teams in passing offense, averaging 298.4 yards per game. Kent is listed among the top 10 Division III receivers with 46 receptions for 679 yards. The Tigers use two quarterbacks - senior Bobby Morales (6-0, 185) and senior Phil Savage (6-0, 180). Morales leads the pair with seven touchdowns on 80-of-143 passing. He has been intercepted nine times this season. Savage has thrown for four touchdowns (66-128 with five interceptions).

COACH DUNCAN ON THE TIGERS: "Sewanee has a very good football team. It seems like the last four or five games we play are against pretty good teams and Sewanee is no different in that respect. They've got a fine passing attack with good receivers and a couple of good quarterbacks."

Hruskovich works hard

by Mark Dolan

Roger Hruskovich knows how to work hard. Since coming to Rose with only two years cross country experience and beginning last on the Rose team, he has worked his way up to become one of the best runners on the team.

His first three years here have shown his steady improvement. In cross country, Roger has earned all conference three years, and has been the M.V.P. of the cross country team for two years. One of his most impressive finishes was ninth in the Little State Cross Country meet. However, cross country is not his only sport. Roger also was the 5000-meter run conference champion.

After working hard these three years to become one of the best, Roger has had problems this season. His main concern is his left knee, which bothers him when he runs. The pain began at the end of last year's season. This year the pain has knocked him out of one race, and in the races he has ran, his times have been below normal. Yet, Roger keeps practicing, and he wears a knee brace to help his recovery. Although Roger has had a tough year, he remains optimistic, and he hopes to return to the running form that made him one of the best.

Fencing travels to I.U.

by Tim Hegemier

The fencing club traveled to Indiana University last Saturday to compete in the Fall Open, otherwise known as the I.U. Marathon Tournament. Men's foil began at 10 a.m. and the last bout of men's sabre ended at 12 midnight. Rose-Hulman finished respectably in both foil and sabre, and a great time was had by young and old alike.

Competing in foil were Rob Denkwalter (0-4, 11 points), Dave Farris (3-6, 22 points), Tim Hegemier (1-3, 12 points), Joe Klein (4-4, 38 points), Scott

Marstellar (0-4), Jon Van De Marrsche (7-7, 49 points), John Wilkinson (2-7, 24 points), and Stuart Yee (0-4, 4 points). # Soccer upends Centre

by Ben Niccum

The Rose-Hulman soccer team traveled to Centre College recently to improve their record to 6-5 and 1. Senior Paul Price scored the single goal of the game within the first five minutes of the first quarter. Junior Andre Brousseau assisted on that goal. The final score of the game was 1-0. Rose had 15 goal attempts compared to Centre's 18. Paul Everline, goalie, had six saves to Centre's five. Coach Jim Rendel is again pleased with the team's performance. Rendel said, "The game was close . . . and we have two tough games ahead of us." Rose's last home soccer game is scheduled for October 31, against Sewanee at 3 p.m. There are only two games remaining in the soccer schedule. The other game is against Brescia College at 2 p.m. November 1.

Grinnel gets 1969 yearbooks

(Newsweek) — Graduates of Grinnell College's Class of 1966 will finally be able to see the way they were. Their class yearbooks are finally ready. Two decades ago, administrators at the Iowa school banned the book before publication, citing libel precautions. But feisty students spirited the page proofs to a safe deposit box, where they proceeded to gather dust — and a sordid reputation for portraying wanton nudity, orgies and drug abuse. This year's administration, recognizing the book's sentimental and historical value, decided to pick up the printing costs. The yearbook, which sells for $35, is relatively tame compared to its advance billing. Sales are brisk: although written for a class of 220, 1,000 copies of the yearbook have already been sold.

Slightly Of Campus

PEOPLE WHO HAVE OVERDUE PARKING TICKETS AT WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY will now have to pay off their fines with blood donations to the campus blood bank.

Parking violators who weigh less than 110 pounds or have colds or diseases like hepatitis still will have to pay overdue fines in cash, blood donor coordinator Dolly Clawges added.

EASTERN NEW MEXICO U. BECAME THE LATEST CAMPUS to elect a man — Dan Gangloff, a 23-year-old Coast Guard veteran — as its homecoming queen.

HOLLYWOOD PRODUCER RICHARD SCHNAIBLE IS TURNING THE PURDUE AND INDIANA U. CAMPUSES INTO sets for a new movie to be called "Murder U." Schnaible, responsible for the "A View To A Kill" and "Never Say Never Again" James Bond movies, says "Murder U." is a low-budget ($1.5 million) effort that will star Clint Walker.

AN AD FOR "BRAILLE T-SHIRTS" in the Colorado Daily at the U. of Colorado led the National Federation of the Blind to object the "Body Braille" shirts — which sport slogans like "Feel the Heat," "Feeling Good," and "Touch of Class" — are in bad taste.

The Daily agreed to pull the ads if the Federation contacted it directly, but the Federation has not done so yet.

The Rosem Anthem discovered

by Ever Constipated

This was a song copied from the famed bathroom stall in the basement of the Logon Library. If this were a song, the first eight lines would be the refrain — the remaining five stanzas are the verses. Note that the "Bored" mentioned below probably stands for the Bored of Maniacs/Manglers/Manipulators (the reader's choice)

I'm an engineer
And I'm okay
I work all night
And I work all day
( He's a Rosem guy )
( In all this grind )
( He's so burned out )
( That he's lost his mind )

I'm bored in lecture
And doze away in class
I can't stand the testing
And reaming up the — ...

So we have new classes
To make a real degree
From Derelict, Bud and Vaxer
Dopey and Kennee ...

I make fun of Woodsies
Who hang around with frats
And join as "little" sisters
To entertain the brats...

I slam those State students
Who never seem to study
And greet the alumnus
Who calls me his buddy ...

Given second chances
I'd pick a coed school
To escape the mandates
Of the Bored's rule ...

Top Ten Reasons NOT to go Coed

1. Rose can't afford a "Campus Mid-Wife"
2. Everyone knows girls can't do Reverse Polish Notation anyway
3. We might have to shower before class
4. The constant effects of pheromones would be too overpowering
5. We'd lose our ISU cheerleaders
6. Profs would have to quit telling jokes in class
7. No place on cheerleader uniform for HP
8. Not enough closet space
9. We'd have to start a "Domestic Engineering Program"
10. We'd have to add another telephone network
